Sustainable mobility: The Frankfurt Convention Bureau introduces its digital Congress Combination Ticket

Frankfurt/Main – 20th March 2025 – Effective immediately, the Frankfurt Convention Bureau (FCB) is offering its popular Congress Combination Ticket in digital form. Developed in partnership with the Rhine-Main Transport Association (RMV), the multiple-day ticket — when used together with a valid event badge — offers congress delegates seamless and environment-friendly use of Frankfurt’s expansive public transport network. The ticket is valid for free and unlimited use in all Frankfurt city districts including Frankfurt Airport.

Pending on event duration, the Congress Combination Ticket’s duration of validity may last up to seven days. It is available from the FCB directly. When placing an order, event organisers have the option of having the ticket displayed on the event badge directly, or providing their participants with a link for digital booking and use.

Please note that this special ticket offer is available to congress and conference organisers only and that it must be booked for the full number of event participants and the full duration of the event. The minimum order amount is 100 tickets.

Aside from the Congress Combination Ticket, the FCB also offers event organisers the Congress Ticket, which provides holders with various environment-friendly transport options for travel within Frankfurt’s city districts. The ticket, suitable in particular for smaller groups, is available as a one or two-day ticket and in booklets of 20 tickets.

For further information on our special ticket range and prices, please visit www.meetfrankfurt.de/en/tickets or contact the Frankfurt Convention Bureau directly, either via email or phone.

The Frankfurt Convention Bureau (FCB) is a department of the Frankfurt Tourist+Congress Board and a centre of competence for all matters relating to the planning and performance of congresses, conferences, events and incentives within Frankfurt and the Rhine-Main region. Aside from being present at numerous national and international trade shows, the FCB also works to promote the positive image of Frankfurt as an international congress and conference destination. The FCB supports event organisers in submitting congress bids, finding optimal locations for special events, making hotel room reservations and securing special ticket allotments for the local public transport system.
